2018 STRATEGIC FOCUS AREAS

We will continue to focus on our D&I goals. One of our key areas will be to add additional members to our external recruiting source list to attract and recruit diverse candidates into open positions at Crouse.

CAREERS AT CROUSE

Crouse Health is actively seeking dynamic individuals to join our growing diverse and inclusive organization. Detailed requirements are listed on the website at crouse. org/careers/jobs. Interested candidates are encouraged to complete our online application.

APPLICANT REFERRAL PROGRAM (ARP)

The Applicant Referral Program (ARP) is an opportunity to earn a bonus, help a friend or peer find a rewarding career and ensure that Crouse Health continues to employ highly qualified people who support and demonstrate our mission, vision and values. As an employee, you have inside knowledge about your profession and what it means to work at Crouse. The ARP is a way for Crouse to reward you for referring qualified employees and helping us fill open positions. This program is eligible to any current employee.

D&I CONVERSATIONS SERIES

Stay tuned for our upcoming D&I Conversations series, where various topics will be discussed, including generational workplace dynamics; equality versus equity; unconscious bias; respect and communication and more.

Crouse Health values the diversity among its employees, patients, families and the communities we serve. Our mission calls for us to provide the best in patient care. Crouse team members do this each and every day, and each quarter the D&I Committee will highlight one of our very own.

HIGHLIGHTING OUR OWN

Tyrone Bibby

Cook, Nutritional Services Department

"I learned a lot from my mom.

She taught me to always cook from the heart and put love in your food. I soon came to realize that every time you make a dish, you hold someone's life in your hands."

Tyrone Bibby is originally from the Bronx and was raised in Harlem. He has his associate's degree in restaurant management and culinary arts. Tyrone has been cooking professionally for 13 years in various positions including head chef. He and his wife (also a chef) reside in Auburn. His passion for cooking stems from his mom. When asked what the greatest lesson learned from his mother has been, Tyrone says, "She taught me to always cook from the heart and put love in your food. I soon came to realize that every time you make a dish, you hold someone's life in your hands."

A huge grin comes across Tyrone's face when he speaks about his cooking experience. He recalls these as wonderful opportunities that allowed him to meet amazing people. For starters, he helped prepare a 3,000 plated dinner on Ellis Island for President Obama and troops. He has cooked and presented a meal for President Bill Clinton held at the Museum of Modern Art in New York. As if these career highlights weren't enough, Tyrone was invited to help prepare 5,000 desserts for Wimbledon at Radio City Music Hall.

"One of my most memorable moments was not only seeing Whoopi Goldberg after an awards show party, but she walked right up to me and said, 'Have a good night baby!'"

Tyrone Bibby, thank you for sharing your story with us! Your continued hard work and dedication to the Crouse Health mission is greatly appreciated.

New Crouse employees "bringing it all together" during a recent new employee orientation session. They put things in their own words after listening to presentations on our mission, vision and values, diversity and inclusion and Carepassion. Great job!

D&I Tip

Saying 'Hello' goes a long way! Every time we greet each other, our patients and family members, we strengthen our mission. Offering a simple hello is an instant game changer! Saying hello acknowledges someone's presence, can often lift spirits, and make someone's day. Guess what, it's just nice to say hello. Let's demonstrate to others that they are valued and respected by taking a moment to say hello.
